TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1954

Huston Miller visited his nieces, Era and Vera Miller Thursday afternoon.

Little Nancy Gohene visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Culp during the past week.

Mr. W. M. Stubblefield is still on the sick list. He isn't confined to his bed, but just isn't feeling well.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Uncle Tom Thurmon. Our deepest sympathy goes to the family.

Huston Miller visited Edgar St. John Friday afternoon.

Mr. Tom White, one of our old neighbors, is still very ill in the hospital. We hope he is better soon.

Brother Stein of South Africa, delivered a very good sermon at the Green Plains Church of Christ, Sunday morning and Sunday night, in the absence of brother John Brinn.

Mrs. Butterworth over at the phone office said homes for all six of her colts pups shortly after the Ledger and Times got on the street yesterday.

Said she never had so many phone calls in her life.

If you have a pup you don't want, there's no use in dumping it somewhere. Some kid will take it if he just knows you have the dog. If you want to give a dog away just call us and we can find a home for it.

Ralph McCauston is excavating at the corner of Pine and North Fourth. A service station we understand.

One source said the temperature would go down to 20 last night and another said the 30's. We pulled for the fellow who said it would get down in the 30's.

Five Year old is writing now. Of course you can't read it, but he writes as though he knows what he is doing. If you laugh at him, your name is mud.

Looks as though our one baby chick will make it now, so we've invested a quarter in some more feed for him.

In case you have passed the Murray Hatchery and looked at the baby chicks in the window and wondered what they are, rest no longer. They are DeKalb 103 hybrids. They are bred as egg layers.

Mr. Kelley says the DeKalb 103 chicks are bunnies as far as egg laying is concerned.

Honesty is like pregnancy. You either are or you ain't.

Mrs. Halpert Will Attend State AAUW Convention

Mrs. Herbert Halpert, president of the Murray Branch of the American Association of University Women, will attend the State AAUW Convention to be held at the Mammoth Cave Hotel at Mammoth Cave April 2, 3 and 4. The Bowling Green Branch of the AAUW will be hostess for the meetings.

Highlights of the Saturday session will be a luncheon with Dr. Earl A. Moore, professor of English at Western State College, as speaker, and dinner in the evening with Dr. Rosemond R. Boyd of Spartanburg, S. C., past chairman of the National State of Women, as speaker. Her topic will be "To Educate Women, The Challenge of Leadership."

W. H. Holds Fort Today

BY United Press
Winter held the fort today. An umbrella of cold Canadian air covered a major portion of the country, driving temperatures below freezing in many northern states and below zero in New England and the upper Great Lakes.

The cold snap was the aftermath of a late season storm that rolled out of Rocky Mountains earlier this week and swept to the Atlantic Coast, leaving at least 31 persons dead.

The cold snap was the aftermath of a late season storm that rolled out of Rocky Mountains earlier this week and swept to the Atlantic Coast, leaving at least 31 persons dead.

Light snow flurries fell over the Rocky Mountains and in the upper Great Lakes. Lightning showers, sleet and light snow were reported in scattered parts of the Middle Atlantic foothills but there was wide spread cloudiness.

Clouds also covered much of the Mississippi Valley and a band eastward to New England.

Houlton, Me., reported an early reading of four below zero. Early low. Most midwestern readings ranged from about 25 to freezing.

Search On For Dog Who Bite Little Girl

NEW YORK — Police and neighbors of a tiny 22-month old girl searched frantically today for the rust colored dog whose bite may cause her death.

The child, Pia Schipani, was menaced from two directions. Rabies bacteria from the dog may already be incubating in her small bloodstream. She also has suffered since birth from a cardiac ailment and anti rabies injections would almost certainly kill her.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Schipani, have enlisted the sympathy of children in surrounding blocks of Brooklyn. They are watching for the gray haired woman who fled with the dog after it had bitten Pia.

The child's grandmother, Mrs. Deck, was walking with Pia when they encountered the woman. The dog was on a small leash and seemed gentle, Mrs. Deck said.

When the child stopped to pet it, the dog suddenly bit Pia's hand. The gray haired woman hastily picked up the dog and ran through an alley, calling over her shoulder to Mrs. Deck that she was going for help.

That was the last time she was seen.

Rabies bacteria develop slowly until June. If she should develop symptoms resembling the disease, her parents will have to take the gamble of disregarding her cardiac ailment and having the anti-rabies shots administered.

Only by finding the mystery woman and having her dog tested can the peril to the child be determined at once. If the dog is not rabid, then little Pia's bright child who speaks English and Polish will not have to undergo the risk of taking the shots.

With that in mind, her parents have trudged tirelessly up and down Brooklyn's tree-shaded streets, ringing doorbells in a house to house search.

Excise Tax Cut Signed Into Law

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill cutting excise sales taxes a billion dollars a year and bringing lower prices on such items as household appliances and telephone bills.

The bill continues present excise tax rates on liquor, beer, wine, gasoline, automobiles, and cigarettes to yield an estimated $1,077,000,000 annually.

Lower prices are expected almost immediately on most of these items: household appliances, jewelry, furs, cosmetics, movie and theater tickets, telephone and telegraph charges, travel tickets, and luggage.

The size of the cuts in dollars and cents will depend on the price of the product and the extent of the tax cut. The present federal excise — or sales — tax on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, luggage and handbags will be cut from 20 to 10 per cent.

Admission tickets costing more than 50 cents will be taxed at 10 per cent, instead of the present 20. Admission tickets costing 50 cents or less won't be taxed at all.

Long distance telephone charges will be taxed at 10 per cent, instead of 25, and local charges at 10 per cent instead of the present 15. Home appliances will be taxed at 5 per cent instead of the present 10.

But the taxes on liquor, beer, wine, gasoline, automobiles and cigarettes will remain at their present rates. These also had been scheduled to be reduced Thursday but the legislation signed by the President will continue the existing rates on these items for another year.

Mr. Eisenhower had asked for continuation of these rates, but he did not ask for the cuts. Congress approved over the President's objections.

Continuation of the present rates on liquor, beer and the other items in that group will more than offset the revenue loss of the 999 million dollars in cuts. They will yield an estimated $1,077,000,000 in the next year.

Congress completed action on the tax measure Tuesday. The House passed it by a vote of 395-11; the Senate by a vote of 72-8.

Snake Handler Recovering From Bite

MIAMI — Doctors reported slight improvement today in the condition of snake handler William Haast who was bitten by a deadly blue krait.

One physician, Dr. James Vaughn, Jr., said he thought the 43-year old Haast, who had expected an immunity from cobra bites to protect him from the blue krait's poison, "will be better in the next few hours."

But he warned that the veteran snake handler would probably remain in critical condition for at least the next 24 hours.

Haast, Vaughn said, was still trying to keep a log of his body's reactions to the blue krait's bite but had been unable to add anything in the past 12 hours.

A special nurse was on duty at the snake handler's bedside and an iron lung and oxygen tent were at hand in case the paralytic which closed his eyes should spread to his lungs, cutting off his breath. Haast was able to move his arms and legs but he said it was "very painful."

Haast was bitten Monday while displaying the blue krait to a group of tourists at his serpentine which houses more than 1,000 specimens.

He ignored the bite—one of about 25 he has suffered from cobras, rattlesnakes and water moccasins—until his throat began to ache a few hours later.

Butter Price Slips Thursday

By UNITED PRESS
Housewives in many parts of the country will be able to load their supermarket carts with 59 cent butter Thursday when government price supports slip to 75 cent per pound.

The price had already dropped in some cities, but most retailers are holding off until Thursday.

Not all Americans will enjoy butter selling at 59 cents a pound, but the price will drop about 5 to 10 cents a pound in almost all markets.

The price of butter in Los Angeles, for instance, is not expected to go below 65 cents Thursday.

But the high cost of shipping it from the Midwest has kept retail prices high in that coast city.

Industry sources said the New York retail price would probably level off between 65 and 69 cents a pound, as contrasted to recent price ranges of 75 to 80 cents.

In November of 1946 the price of grade A butter rose to a high of one dollar a pound in New York. During most of the post World War II years it has stayed near the 80 cent level.

Many grocers in Milwaukee, near the rich Wisconsin dairy farms, said they would lower the price of butter to 59 cents a pound Thursday and then sit back to see if the competition will force further cuts.

Stores at Madison, Wis., slashed prices on different grades of butter to 59 and 69 cents last week when the first news of the lowered dairy support prices came. Most retailers said they planned no further cuts.

Retailers in Indianapolis, Ind., and Albany, N. Y., said they would go to the 59 cent price, hacking roughly a dime off last week's prices.

One chain—Kroger slashed prices from 81 cents to 63 in Atlanta, Ga., in an "experiment" to see how low it would have to go to make penny wise shoppers switch from margarine.

The same chain cut prices on different grades to 57 and 59 cents in Columbus, Ohio.

Few merchants cared to predict long range price fluctuations. Most agreed they would be at the mercy of the wholesale price changes and of their competitors.

Program Of Sacred Music To Be Given At Methodist Church

A program of sacred music will be presented by the choir of the First Methodist Church under the direction of James P. Dunn on Sunday evening April 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Richard Farrell will play the organ accompaniment and soloists will be Mrs. Howard Olin and James Dunn.

The offering for this service will initiate a fund raising campaign for a new piano for use by the choir.

Region Music Festival To Be Held Here

Twenty one Kentucky high schools will participate in the Regional Music festival to be held at Murray State College, April 2 and 3. M. O. Weather, MSC, public relations director and manager of the festival, announced this week.

The festival will take place in the Fine Arts building and the MSC auditorium. Judges will be Professors Josiah Darnall, James Dunn, Richard Farrell, David J. Gowan, Neale B. Mason, Roman Prydatkevich, Leslie R. Putnam, Russell Terhune and John C. Winters, all members of the Murray State College Fine Arts faculty.

Students from the different schools will not compete against one another, but will be given ratings of fair, good, excellent or superior, depending upon their performances.

Events in which the students will participate include piano solos and duets, vocal solos and ensembles, timpani solos, drum solos and ensembles, baton twirling solos and ensembles, string solos and ensembles, brass instrumental solos and ensembles, woodwind instrumental solos and ensembles, choruses, choirs, orchestras and bands.

High schools represented in the festival will be Ballard Memorial, Bardwell, Benton, Clinton Central, Crittenden County, Cuba, Fulton, Heath, Hopkinsville, Lone Oak, Lyon County, Marion, Mayfield, Murray High, Murray Training, New Concord, Paducah Tilghman, Reidland, South Christian, St. Mary's and Trigg County.

Jersey Sale To Be Held Monday

The Purcell Parish Jersey Cattle Club's 8th Annual consignment sale will be held Monday, April 5, at the War Memorial Fairgrounds in Mayfield, Kentucky.

This year the selection committee has chosen an unusually high quality group of animals for your approval. Many of these animals are sired artificially by proven bulls of the K.A.E.A.

A large number of the heifers in this sale will make outstanding FFA and 4-H projects.

Some of the outstanding bloodlines represented are, Biltmore, Jester, Bosilos, Morocco, Mighty Duke, Philodora, Pompos II, Comandante Favorite, Basil, Masterman, Standard Climax, Royal Design, Prince, Golden Jeweller, Double Design, Masterpiece and Golden Volunteer Signet.

Never before has the club brought an offering with such outstanding conformation and production.

For catalogs of the sale contact James L. Pryor, Agricultural Agent for Illinois Central Railroad at Mayfield or E. B. Howton at Murray State College, Murray, Kentucky.

Powerful Enough To Wipe Out Metropolitan New York City

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Mar. 31. — Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said today at President Eisenhower's news conference that this country can now build a hydrogen bomb powerful enough to wipe out the entire metropolitan area of New York City.

Strauss appeared at the Chief Executive's weekly news conference to make the first public report in any detail on recent hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific.

Strauss for the first time used the phrase "hydrogen bomb" rather than the previously favored description of "thermonuclear weapons."

Strauss said the important result of the tests was that this country has made such progress in the development of hydrogen bombs that it soon will be "more free to increase our impetus on the peaceful uses of atomic power."

Strauss said the March 1 hydrogen bomb shot at the Eniwetok proving grounds was in control, despite reports to the contrary. He described it as "a stupendous blast in the megaton range."

A megaton bomb is one of 1,000,000 tons TNT equivalent. Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee has said the March 1 explosion was between 12 and 14 megatons.

Strauss' use of the destruction of New York as an example came after reporters beseeched him to describe the areas of the March 1 and March 26 shots and to give some picture of their effectiveness.

As for the power of the blasts, Strauss said this would have to be measured in megatons and the number of megatons is a matter of military secrecy.

As for effectiveness in general terms, he said a hydrogen bomb could be made "as large as the military requirement demands—large enough to take out city, any city."

"New York?"
"The metropolitan area—yes," he replied.

Strauss spoke from a long, prepared statement in which he emphasized several points:

1. "One important result of these hydrogen bomb developments has been the enhancement of our military capability to the point where we would soon be more free to increase our emphasis on the peaceful uses of atomic power—at home and abroad."

Strauss, outside the language of his prepared text, added the recent hydrogen bomb tests had brought the "United States" "very much nearer to the satisfaction of military requirements." Because of the tests, he said this country could now see the possibility of proceeding with peacetime development of atomic energy much clearer than it could before the tests.

2. Without attempting to minimize the effects of the March 1 blast, he said it "was very large but 'at no time was the testing out of control.'"

He said the "yield" from this shot was "about double that of the calculated estimate—a margin of error not incompatible with a totally new weapon."

He denied that the March 1 blast was "a widely and unofficially reported, destroyed an entire city or large island. He said what was destroyed was a large sandspit or reef that had been created specially for the test.

3. He said the 23 Japanese fishermen aboard the traveler Fortunate Dragon were "definitely well within the area that had been marked off as the danger area. Air, surface and radar search teams had not spotted the ship."

He said the condition of these fishermen was somewhat unclear because American doctors had not been permitted to make "a proper clinical examination" of them.

He pointed out that 28 Americans manning weather stations on

Students To Attend Youth Assembly

A number of young people will leave Murray Sunday to attend the Youth Assembly in Frankfort next week. The Assembly is sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y and the Hi-Y. The purpose of the Assembly will be to show the young people from over the state, how government works and to make better citizens of them.

Attending from Murray High School will be Margaret Tarry, Marilyn Murphy, Dortha Parker, Ruby Anna Jones, Linda Tucker, Ann Koertner, Terry Lee Tracy and Paul Theobald. Miss Rebecca Tarry and Mrs. A. B. Austin will be the chaperones. Students from Murray Training School will be Jeanette Huie, Jean Dick, Sally Jones, and Nancy Wainwright. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones.

Ann Koertner is the present Speaker of the House and Theobald, the Senate floor leader. Miss Tracy will run for the office of Speaker.

The young people will meet in Frankfort and have an election of state officers. They will also conduct a church service by themselves.

A highlight of the four day meet will be the inaugural ball to be held for the newly elected governor.

The Murray High Chapter raised money to finance the trip through sales of fruit and by bake sales.

Murray Training students raised their money through the sale of programs at one of the Regional tournament games and through bake sales.

Teachers To Be Honored

Frankfort, Ky. — Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby proclaimed the week of April 11 to 17 as "Teacher Appreciation Week" in the State and asked that appropriate steps be taken by citizens and organizations "to show their appreciation by appropriate programs and activities honoring our teachers."

"The need for greater public recognition of the excellent services our teachers are rendering is recognized by the Kentucky School Boards Association—and boards—are urged to increase salaries of teachers as much as possible with funds available, considering other necessary services and facilities that must be provided."

The Governor's proclamation recognized the growing shortage of qualified teachers in Kentucky, and declared that, as a result of a "continuous decrease in the number of young men and women in training for teaching and an increase in the school population, the shortage will become more acute unless immediate attention is given to the problem."

A homemakers club lesson in Fayette county in preparing cooked foods for freezing, included chicken pot pie, fruit pies, sandwiches, casserole dishes, butter and sponge cakes, yeast rolls.

The Common Enemy

BY OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN, II

EDITOR'S NOTE: Oscar Hammerstein, II, poet, musical comedy librettist, song writer and producer who has had three hits running on Broadway at one time, wrote the following editorial as a contribution to the American Cancer Society's 1954 Crusade.

It is a safe guess that there is no one
